June 2014

Dear Eastern North Philadelphia Community Residents and Stakeholders:

On behalf of Congreso de Latinos Unidos, Inc. and the Stoneleigh Foundation, we are pleased to present the Eastern North Philadelphia Education Resource Guide.

Eastern North Philadelphia is community rich in cultural and programmatic diversity. Still, its youth are dropping out of high school at alarming rates. The purpose of this guide is to ensure that students, parents, teachers and other community stakeholders have access to what resources do exist in an effort to eliminate as many the barriers along the way.

We approached this project with our community's assets in mind, and so we started with its residents. What Head Start programs are available? Where can students go for GED programs? Where can students go if they need to use a computer to complete school assignments? You will find answers to these and many other questions in this guide.

This guide lists educational resources available within Eastern North Philadelphia, specifically within the areas identified on the included map. We encourage you to use this guide and share it with others. We also encourage you to contribute and become a part of this community resource by submitting any relevant resources that are not included, in order to ensure that this is a useful tool for years to come.

Thank you for your commitment to Eastern North Philadelphia and the educational success of its residents. If you have any questions, please contact Yvette A. Núñez at 267-765-2262 or nunezy@congreso.net.

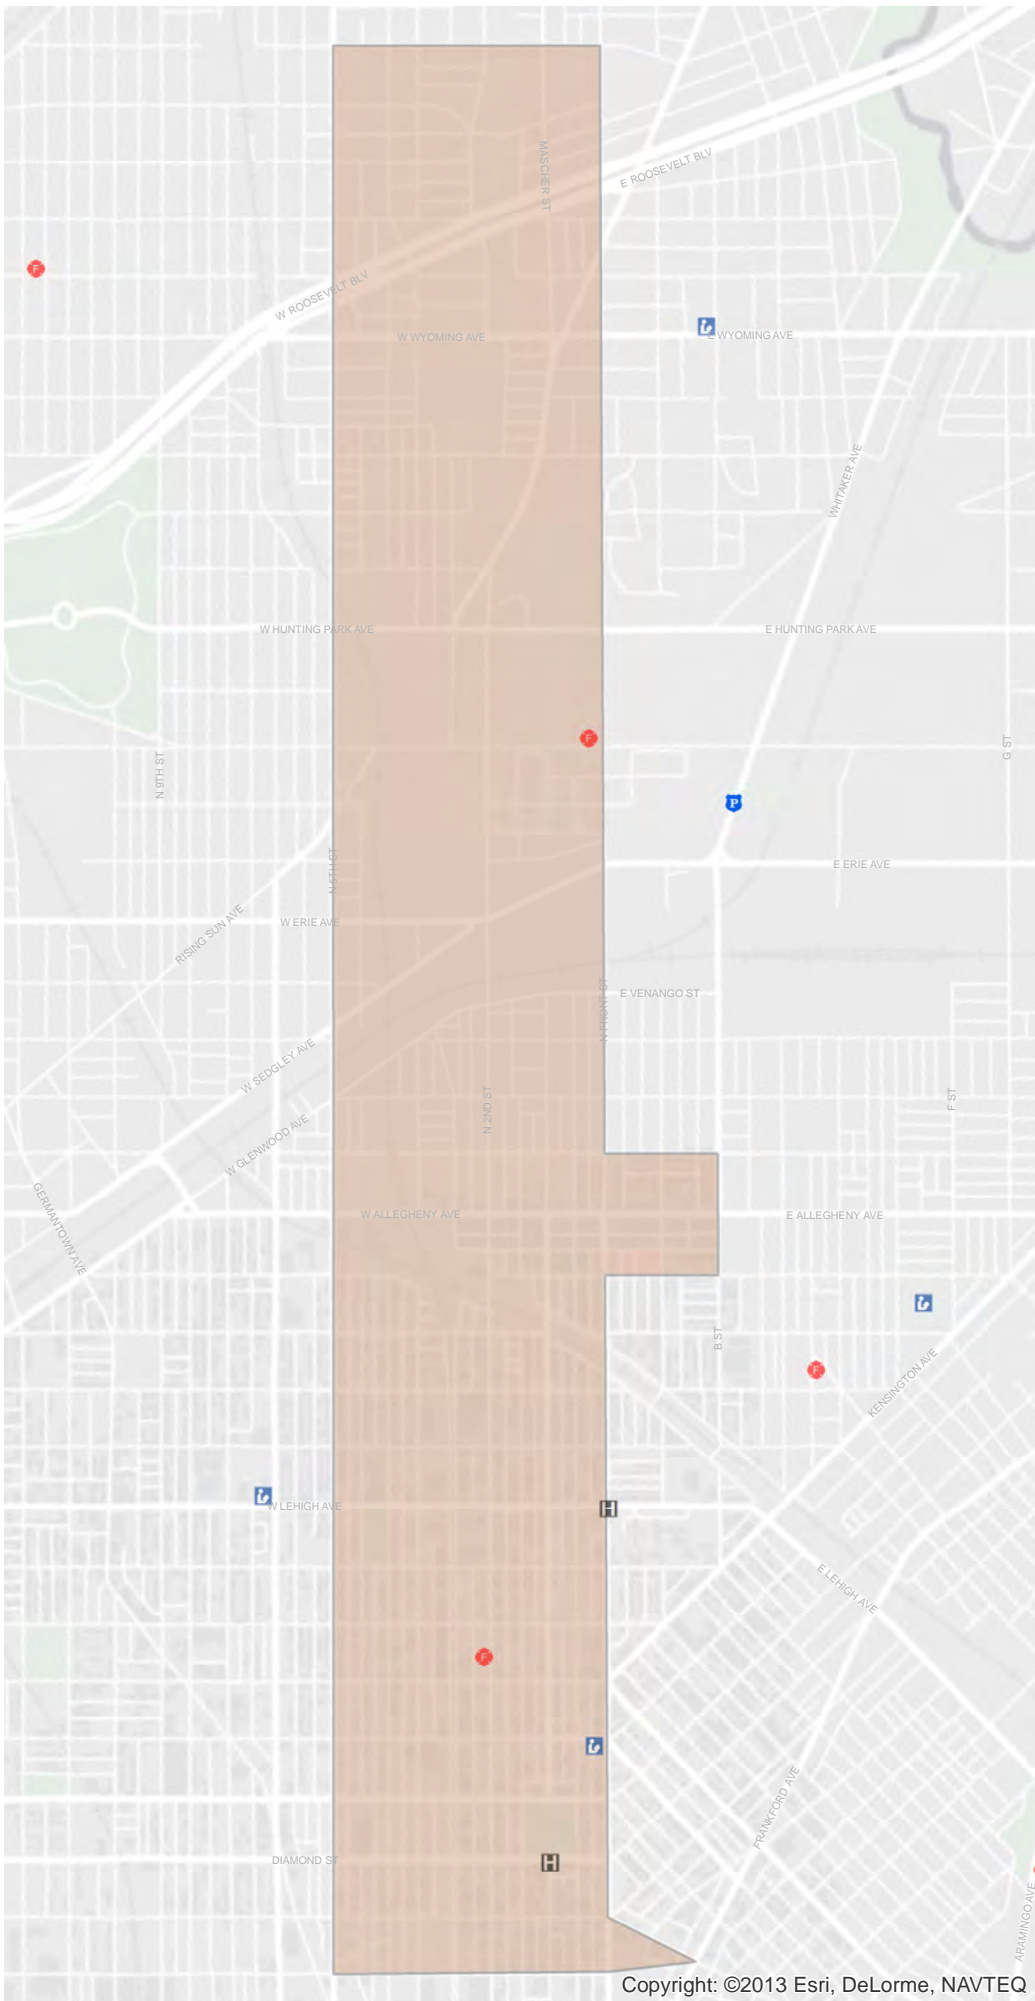

Sincerely,

Cynthia F. Figueroa
